Family Of Four Evicted In Aurora

Aurora — Aurora this week witnessed its second eviction since wartime controls went into force. Victims of the circumstances this time was a Temperance St. family of four, and Aurora citizens have been anxiously trying to locate accommodation for them.

A room in the hotel was located for the mother and 11-year-old daughter, and the father, an employee of a local factory, and 17-year-old son have temporarily found accommodation with neighbors. The family's furniture has been placed in storage while municipal authorities continue their search for suitable housing accommodation.

The family was evicted by the owners of the Temperance St. house when they proved that they needed the house themselves. Last eviction in Aurora took place in 1944.

Want Something Concrete Assessment Committee Told

Newmarket—Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette took exception to the interim report of the special committee on assessments at the council meeting on Monday night, and also to the assessments currently being charged to defray the cost of the night patrol. H. J. Luck, chairman of the special committee, reviewed some of the inequalities which his committee had found in the assessment investigation, and said, "There is an absolute need of a thorough, impartial revision of assessment. It is definitely a case where some one must go right through the assessment roll and make revisions, and I recommend a proper impartial revision be made by the proper authorities."

Deputy-Reeve Spillette objected to the recommendation. "I went into office as deputy-reeve this year with the equalization of assessment as one of the planks in my platform, and this council agreed with me that such equalization was needed to such an extent that a special committee was appointed to go into the question and come back to council with concrete recommendations," he said. "Apparently all the committee has done is to study the assessment roll and find some of the inequalities which we all knew existed. No concrete resolutions have been brought in at all."

Education Conference Approves Health Area

Newmarket—A regional conference of the Ontario Education Association and the education committee of the York county council passed a resolution on Saturday approving the principle of larger health units as described by Dr. R. G. Struthers of the department of health and encouraging "all municipalities to enter into such areas where possible". The resolution also recommended that the department consider the inclusion of dental care other than simple oral hygiene in health units. The conference was held at Pickering College. Reeve Hugh Griggs, Mimico, was chairman. Reeve Arthur D. Evans was chairman of the resolutions committee.

Other resolutions passed were that the department of education be urged to co-operate with department of highways in having all traffic travelling in either direction on a highway stopped when a school bus stops; that some instruction in the use of audio-visual aids be given in Normal schools beginning September, 1948, that the conference approve the formation of a provincial department of physical education and commands its work; that the term "inspectors" with reference to public and high school inspectors be changed to "directors of education"; that booklets be issued by the department of education containing approved modern plans for schools along with recommendations for sizes of classrooms, other accommodations, type of construction, construction material, built-in equipment, etc., and that the booklets be made available free of charge to school boards, along with a list of recommended "school architects".

By circuitous routes across country and on country roads to avoid doing highway damage, Sgt. Bill Waite piloting the tank, "Churchill," and Sgt. Henry Starkey brought it home to Aurora. Training will continue throughout the winter months and the squadron members are being issued with warm wearing apparel for this purpose.

Fred S. Haines Opens Newmarket Show

Newmarket—Fred S. Haines, and put them into form. It does not matter what the materials are. They could be metal, wood or clay but they become art when the artist has put them into a form of his choice. He said that it is important that people in Canada working in the mediums as clay or metal do it in a Canadian idiom. "A man paints because he is dissatisfied," said Mr. Haines. "Because he is dissatisfied, he paints a world for himself. To continue to paint he must have that certain 'satisfied discontentment' and he can only go as far as his own criticism." Exhibitors of the Newmarket Arts club were Miss Shirley Cunniff, R. L. Chadwick, Miss R. R. Munroe Ferguson, Mrs. Doris Gibney, W. J. Hopkinson, Ross R. Hugo, Clement King (deceased), Mrs. Evelyn Ambrey King, D. Schneider and Mrs. H. Stevens.

High School Area, Health Unit Approved

Newmarket — On Monday night, the Newmarket town council passed motions approving the formation of a health unit consisting of the 14 northern municipalities in the county, and of a high school area of Newmarket, East Gwillimbury, part of North Gwillimbury and part of Whitby. Both motions were introduced by Reeve Arthur D. Evans.

The approval in both cases comes after months of debate; and in the case of the high school area reverses a decision made several weeks ago to wait for the report of the Hope Royal Commission.

Councillor Frank Bowser, who was not present when Dr. R. G. Struthers explained the health area to the council a few weeks ago, offered the only objection. "If we form a health area, we sacrifice our authority over the health problems of Newmarket and we lose personal touch with them," he said. Councillor H. J. Luck explained that in some cases this "personal touch" was undesirable, and that in a health area, Newmarket would gain impartial supervision. The motion carried unanimously. It had been seconded by Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette.

More opposition was shown to the approval of the high school area, and the passing of the motion came as a surprise even to Reeve Evans, who introduced it without benefit of a seconder. Councillor Caroline Edwards said that when the matter was brought up in council earlier the decision had been to wait for the report of the Hope Commission.

Reeve Evans explained that the present high school board "wants to know where it stands. The board has written two letters to council recommending the approval of the area, and in any case the members say the school is going to have to be enlarged. I asked at the Ontario Educational Association Conference on Saturday whether any further information was available concerning the commission's report, and the representatives of the department of education were not prepared to give that information."

Reeve Evans expressed the belief that the members of the department of education would not advocate the formation of the areas so strongly if they had any thought that the report of the Hope Commission would precipitate radical changes.

Mayor Vale asked whether the situation had been altered at all since the council decided to await the Hope report. Reeve Evans said it had not except for the fact that it was now thought that the Hope report may not be published for some time.

The question of possible increased school taxes and of loss of autonomy concerning the high school were discussed, and Mayor Vale said, "I can't see how we are depriving any youngsters of the benefits of a high school education by not creating an area." Reeve Evans said the lack of transportation facilities for country students was a deterrent.

Councillor Edwards seconded the motion, and it carried by a small majority.

'Definite Demand' Plan More Housing Talks

Newmarket — A delegation headed by Newmarket Veterans' Association President Doug. May, was present at the meeting of the Newmarket town council on Monday night to hear Councillor George Byers' interim report on the questionnaires to determine housing conditions in Newmarket. Mr. Byers congratulated Mr. May and his committee "for the co-operation and publicity" they had given the questionnaires.

He said 63 of the questionnaires had been filled in and returned and others were still coming in. "I feel this shows there is a definite demand for a rental housing project here and that we should call a general meeting and have Mr. Spry, a representative of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to answer questions. The executives of the Veterans' Association, the Canadian Legion, and the general public should be invited."

Reeve Arthur Evans said the veterans had already planned a meeting for November 27 when Mr. Parliament of D.V.A. was expected to be present to answer questions concerning D.V.A. housing projects. Mr. May said it would be possible to have contractors present, and that if it would be possible to have Mr. Spry come that night, the whole evening could be devoted to the housing problem. "We will see that every veteran in Newmarket is duly warned of the time and place," he said. Mayor Vale said it would not be good policy to have both speakers present on the same night since each represented a different organization with different projects. Mr. May said it would be good policy from the veterans' point of view because it would offer them the opportunity of comparison.

Firemen Throw Water 4 1-2 Minutes After Alarm

Newmarket — The Newmarket town council on Monday night received the report from the Canadian Underwriters' Association on the tests and inspection of fire protection equipment made on July 24. According to the report, the inspectors put in a call from box No. 24 at Millard and Victoria Sts., about 1,000 feet from the fire hall, at 9.14 a.m. "The steam whistle at the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. sounded at 9.15. The automobile fire engine arrived at 9.17, and water was thrown through one line of 300 feet of hose at 9.18. Seventeen of the 23 volunteer members of the brigade responded to the call," the report read.

According to the report, the water supplies are "somewhat insufficient" and additional storage of water for visible supplies is required. "The distribution system is seriously lacking in large feeder mains, and it is also deficient in cross-connecting mains of good size. It contains a number of dead ends and fully 25 percent of four-inch mains." The report said the total fire losses for the years 1945 and 1946 amounted to $950. It recommended the replacement of the four-inch mains by six-inch mains, and the purchase of more 2½-inch hose, the quantity

Taxi Drivers Aid Kin Of Murder Victim

The fund was begun from contributions of the employees, made because while none of them had ever met the victim, "he was in the same business and we know what he was up against."

The fund has been opened to the public and at press time $160 had been collected. The money will be sent to Mrs. Margeson this weekend.

Alexander Muir Class Shifted To Stuart Scott

Newmarket—A solution to the problem of insufficient space for the children of Alexander Muir school's first grade has been found by the public school board. Members of the Auxiliary class at the Stuart Scott school will shortly be moved into the household science room, and a class composed of children of the sixth and seventh grades at the Alexander Muir school will move into the old auxiliary class room.

All grades at the Alexander Muir school will then move forward a room and the homeless first graders will take over in the room left vacant. "Sooner or later we might make the Stuart Scott school the senior public school, that is, have all the senior classes over there. This is just a small step in that direction," Rudy Renzius, chairman of the board, said. Another member said that if there is ever to be one large school for all Newmarket pupils, the Stuart Scott school would be the logical

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

When playing many games, you get better results by "following through". And if you want to be successful, you will apply that principle to your job, too.

This means doing a thorough job—seeing that you have done all you can do to make it good before it leaves your hands.

Doing so may involve only some very slight extra effort. Double-checking some measurements, for instance, may be a small matter. And your work won't be apparent. But it may save time and money—the price of errors. And sooner or later people will learn that they can depend on you.

On the other hand, you may have to work hours overtime in order to follow through on some jobs. Or you may need to keep an eye on other operations which are not part of your job but have a bearing on it.

However, if you're really ambitious, you'll willingly go to considerable lengths in order to make every job a really O.K. job!

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Alex Moffat Remanded On Manslaughter Count

Newmarket — Alex Moffat, Holland Landing, was remanded for trial November 28 when he appeared in magistrate's court on Friday to answer to a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of his mother, Amy Elizabeth Moffat, in a three-car collision on No. 11 highway on October 25. Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake presided.

Roy Hartwig, Queensville, who pleaded guilty last week to charges of stealing a shotgun, about 50 records, and several smaller articles from his employer, William Ross Chapman, Queensville, was sentenced to 30 days.

Albert M. Campbell, Aurora, R.R., was acquitted but Harold Howell, Toronto, was convicted and fined $5 when two charges of careless driving followed an accident on the Lake Wilcox road.

Howell testified he had been driving behind Campbell when Campbell swung over to the left side of the road and appeared to apply his brakes. Howell said he sounded his horn and began to pass Campbell on the right side of the road, but Campbell made a quick turn to the right, and a collision resulted.

Campbell said he had swung over to the left hand side of the road to turn into his narrow lane. "The only other way to get into the lane is to turn in part way, back out into the road, and then go forward again," he said. Campbell said he had signalled for a right hand turn. Howell said that if Campbell signalled, he did so when he was on the left side of the road so that he did not see it.

Magistrate Hollinrake said Howell had made an error in judgment which amounted to carelessness, but had not been deliberately careless.

Reginald Le Gresley, Newmarket, R.R. 2, was remanded a week for judgment when charged with stealing a quantity of wood from Glen Micks, Newmarket, R.R. 2, who had the rights on a section of woods adjoining that of Le Gresley's. Constable Joseph Jardine said wood from Micks' piles had been found in Le Gresley's. Le Gresley admitted that he did not have any wood similar to that found by Jardine on his property, but claimed the wood had been "planted." Constable Jardine said there was too much of it for it to have been "planted."

E. R. Jefferis, Waubashene, was fined $200 and costs when he pleaded guilty to misrepresenting himself as a doctor. Gavin A. Monahan, special prosecutor and investigator for the College of Physicians and Surgeons, produced a statement from Everett Goode, Queensville, to the effect that Jefferis had misrepresented himself as a doctor, had prescribed "medicine," and had sold him "cures" amounting to more than $18.

Mr. Monahan said Jefferis is not a doctor and never has been. Jefferis was convicted in 1926 for the same type of offence. Two other similar charges were withdrawn.

NORTH GWILLIMBURY COUNCIL UNDERTAKES PARK IMPROVEMENT

North Gwillimbury council started November off with two meetings, one on November 1 and the regular meeting on Monday, Nov. 3. The purpose of the November 1 meeting was to consider improvements to the township park. Horace Purdy, who has had considerable experience in landscape work, went with the council to the park. His advice was that a surveyor be employed to make a plan of the property to scale. On this, a plan for the development of the property could be drafted and the work carried out as future councils saw fit to appropriate money for the purpose. Without waiting for this, some work that could be undertaken immediately was levelling of part of the grounds, trimming some trees and construction of steps to provide easier access to the lake. It was decided to go ahead at once with this and Mr. Doyle was appointed to supervise the work.

A by-law was passed fixing the day for nominations for the 1948 council on Friday, Nov. 28, and the date of the election, if required, on Monday, Dec. 8. The time for closing of the polls on election day was made 6 p.m.

A by-law was passed to establish a 30-mile speed limit on 3,000 feet of roadway south from Willow Beach. By resolution, the council authorized the reeve to enter into the necessary agreement with county council to incorporate North Gwillimbury in the proposed health unit for York county.

The treasurer was authorized to pay refunds for oil taxes and garbage taxes which had been charged in error to properties which had not received these services. An inquiry regarding a proposed drive-in theatre in the summer resort area was brought before the council. As there was no information regarding location or other particulars, the council did not deal with the matter other than to recommend that full information should be furnished when the matter came up again and as the present council term was near an end, it would be better to have the mat-

THE PHYSICIAN and THE PHARMACIST WORKING TOGETHER SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

The Philosopher Prescribes

"Have, then, the good sense to seek good health, for these are two of life's greatest blessings."—Publius Syrus (This Roman writer lived about 43 B.C.)

How truly the philosopher Syrus prescribed! Nearly 2,000 years have proved the wisdom of his words. Now, as then, it is good sense to seek—and to guard, we add—good health. Clutch tightly to your good health. You may search the earth but you will find no treasure to match it. And if the jewel of health eludes, turn confidently to your physician. He is possessor of steadily accumulating skills; guide and counsellor in man's oldest quest. Put your trust in our Men of Medicine. They are beacons that constantly beckon you toward a "haven of health". Should your physician give you a prescription, may we have the privilege of compounding it?

Fire Area For Stouffville Set Up By Township

The Whitchurch township council last Saturday gave instructions to the clerk to bring in an amendment to the dance hall by-law to include those places that use Wurlitzer music. Council also enacted the by-law that established a fire area for Stouffville to service, similar to that covered by the Aurora brigade. Each municipality will service half the township, and each will be paid $250 a year toward the expenses of maintaining the equipment, plus $40 a fire. This arrangement, in effect on the west side of the township, and the east side is to have a similar service now that Stouffville has a modern fire engine carrying 250 gallons of water.

It was pointed out that one of the annual items of expense is a $100 liability insurance for racing over the highways. A map has been drawn and a copy will be placed in every home going forward with the tax statements this month. Householders will be instructed to hang this map by the telephone and it will indicate what brigade they should call. Telephone exchanges have promised to give precedence to a call coming in over party lines in case of a fire emergency. In the case of Stouffville, when the fire is reported to the B. & S. central, the operator will only have to press a button and the big siren at the fire hall will zoom. First fireman to reach the hall will use the private line there to learn from central where the fire is. Six firemen must arrive before the engine leaves for the scene of trouble, and will be followed by at least two more firemen. The firemen will be paid for their service out of the $40 per fire charge, and will be protected by the Workmen's Compensation insurance while on duty.

It is believed that the arrangement will be to the mutual advantage of both the village of Stouffville and the farmers in the area covered, as it has proven to be with Aurora and the farmers on the west side of the township.

WHITCHURCH Employees Seek Retiring Allowance

The York County Municipal Association has requested Whitchurch to set up a retiring allowance for permanent employees, but no action was taken on the issue when it was presented to the municipal council last week since the information was not complete enough, and lack of time prevented the matter getting into the discussion stage.

The suggestion is that where an employee, e.g., a municipal clerk, or road superintendent, contributes five percent of his salary, the municipality would contribute a similar amount until the employee reaches the age of 60 or 65, or has served a stated number of years.

County employees enjoy the privilege of the insurance, which will cost the county of York a lot of money over a period of years. However, one employee in Whitchurch said that so far as he knew the benefits were little better than old age pension which is almost being forced on people of advanced years now, and which may be general for everybody within ten or 15 years.

At the same session of council tenders were opened for supplying treated sand for winter roads, the successful tenderer being Frank Rybets, Unionville, whose tender was the lowest, $1.55 per cubic yard of treated sand, 50 pounds to the yard. Other tenders were from the Stouffville Sand & Gravel, $1.60, and W. R. Case, $2.45 per yard.

Another Empty Hall?

A week from this Friday will be nomination night. Will it be as the cartoonist has pictured other nomination nights with the candidates outnumbering the spectators and the row on row of empty chairs testifying to the indifference of the electorate? Or will this coming nomination night, Friday, Nov. 28, experience a re-awakening of civic conscience?

The men and women in public office are the employees of the citizens of Newmarket. The good they do, the mistakes they make are in the name of the citizens of Newmarket. A good employer takes an interest in the work of his employees. He praises when praise is deserving; he criticizes when his wish is ignored. He does not, as the people of Newmarket have done, grumble on the street corners but ignore a public forum where they can voice their praise or criticism. Least of all does he withhold the expression of his wishes, leaving his employees, as the public has left the town council, to grope their way by trial and error.

Of late there has been considerable criticism of the town council for permitting the construction of a block of office buildings so close to the street line. The council undoubtedly shares some of the fault. The real blame, however, lies with the public. In all the years the widening of Main St. has been a topic of discussion, what instance has there been of a demand from the people for action? The public has only its own indifference to blame if Main St. can no longer be widened. They have no justification for their criticism.

The only way the people will ever get the kind of municipal government they wish is by making their wants known and insisting that they be observed. Nomination nights are for that purpose. Until the citizens attend them, they are forfeiting by their indifference a voice in public affairs.

Tourists — Everyone's Concern

The tourist business in Ontario is second in size only to forest industries. It is a business that all can take a share in promoting. The government builds highways, opens up new resort areas, but it is the people of Ontario who must do the real job of making a tourist's stay in this province so pleasant he will want to come again.

The Hon. Arthur Welsh, minister of travel and publicity, gave graphic illustrations of what the tourist business means to Ontario when he spoke at Zephyr recently. Some 14 million tourists visited Ontario last year, most of them travelling in the four million cars which entered the country, the remainder by train, boat and plane. While in this province, they consumed:

Three and a half million cans of tomato juice; 7,000 beef cattle; 100,000 lambs; 100,000 bags of potatoes; three and a half million pints of strawberries; 500 tons of cereal. Mr. Welsh described the market that the American tourists represent in another manner. Sales to them were the equivalent of $35 in the pocket of everyone in the province.

The size of the tourist market is not its only advantage. In many instances, sales were made directly to the tourist by the producer. The market came to the producer; he had no middle-man, storage and transport charges competing with him for a larger share of his return. What could be more advantageous to the producer than to sell from his own back doorstep as was the case for many roadside stands?

Yet for all the value that the tourist business represents to this province, there remain those who would kill off the source of the golden eggs with poor service, unreasonable prices and misrepresentations, a charge most often laid against fishing resorts who advertise bass fishing where the biggest catch in ten years was a pair of mud-cats.

The government can set standards for rest home accommodation, inspect facilities and license resorts, but the government cannot decree courtesy and service. It cannot always weed out those who set up shop for a "quick killing," and whose unscrupulous operations give the whole tourist industry a black eye. Only the public and the individual operators can give the province a reputation for service that will bring the tourists and their dollars back next year in increasing numbers.

How Long Does It Take?

"The fire hall is pronounced unsafe should a large crowd fill the second storey. The accommodation for fire apparatus is entirely inadequate." The quotation is from an editorial 25 years ago by Lyman Jackson and is as true now as it was then. The editorial also notes that several years before a vote of the taxpayers was taken which "was largely favorable" towards the erection of a new building but that "the newly elected council paid no attention to it."

Again there is a similarity. At the beginning of the year, the property committee of the Newmarket town council reported on the deterioration of the fire hall but nothing was done. Lack of finances made impossible an immediate rebuilding, although the cost might have been debentured, but there was certainly no hindrance to making provisions for future improvement. As 25 years ago the "newly elected council paid no attention to it."

The editorial sounds another current note when it reports Reeve Keith proposing the purchase of the property at the rear of the present buildings (the fire hall and the old registry office) and the erection on it of "a municipal hall... making provision on the ground floor for fire apparatus, clerk's office, public library and firemen sleeping on the premises, having on the second floor sufficient accommodation for the council chamber, court room and board of trade."

Reading this and similar editorials in the files, such as the one over 50 years ago urging the widening of Main St., one wonders how long it takes to accomplish anything in Newmarket.

Lesson In Faith

The sympathy of the district goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Stanley Margeson and family of Aurora. The parents of the Toronto taxi driver, Ralph Margeson, who was murdered last week, they have had placed on their shoulders a personal tragedy few are called to bear. That they should suffer, that a widow and children be made bereft by a brutal slaying is a measure of the age.

In these troublous times, faith is sorely tried. In Mr. and Mrs. Margeson there has been no faltering. They have set an example of steadfastness in the time of loss, an example that has a lesson for all.

The arrival of the new fire truck for the Newmarket fire brigade is a noteworthy event. Newmarket will now have two machines, one that can remain in town in event of an outside call. The new machine means not only an increase in fire-fighting efficiency for Newmarket but for the surrounding district. Stouffville also has a new machine and recently the Whitechurch township council set up a fire area which can be serviced from Stouffville. Between Aurora, Newmarket and Stouffville, extensive protection is provided for the township.

Open season on price control from The Printed Word:

To the average wage earner, economic arguments about price control meant little. He liked price control, particularly as wage control was a dead letter shortly after it was announced. He could see that his heaviest expenses were being controlled, rent absolutely and food costs reasonably well. He did not see the taxes that he had to pay to maintain the army of civil servants and provide the subsidies. The kindly government saw to it that the taxes never got into his pay envelope so that he might forget that he was paying them. This folks, is one of the finest obituaries we have ever read. It is in the personal column by the editor of the Maple Creek, Sask. News:

Found time on Monday morning to attend the funeral of an old friend, "Babe" Quesnel. Nothing like a look around a cemetery to convince one that the bird who wrote "six feet of earth makes us all of one size" was given to straight thinking, and it is a safe bet that he didn't have physical size in mind. As "Babe" was lowered into mother earth we found him uppermost in our mind. His familiar figure will not be seen again along the main drag. Babe, unless conviviality had been prolonged a bit too far, was courteous and friendly with everybody. He never created any particular stir in this corner of the west, where he was born and passed his childhood and adult years. If he ever judged any person harshly none was regaled with his opinion. He liked people—with an extra warm corner in his heart for children. In World War I, according to comrades who were with him in the line, he was a good soldier. While living at his 57 years, Babe never harmed anybody, with the possible exception of himself. It is not given to many to play a big part on the stage of life, but it is given to all to be kind and considerate of the people they meet as they go about their daily activities. In this respect, Babe rarely failed. When Babe "crossed the river" last week all that was spiritual entered a world where we have it, on the highest authority, that those who place themselves first here may well wind themselves last. Babe was a humble man; he never placed himself first. . . . Nothing is more simple than greatness; indeed to be simple is to be great. . . .

The Editor, Era and Express: Last night I attended what to me was the most interesting and inspiring church service I have attended in some years. No, it was not a memorial service, but a service conducted by the Junior Farmers of this district. The people who shake their heads and say the youth of today is heading fast to perdition should have been in Sharon United church where these young people must have filled with pride the heart of every parent who listened. The music was beautiful and in excellent taste. The speaker was a member of the Junior Farmers' organization, who took for his topic, "Citizenship," and gave a sermon worthy of an older and more experienced preacher.

I have mentioned no names because each make a whole, and all were grand. Good luck to all you young people who can and will organize a service like the one I enjoyed last night.

Citizen,
Sharon, Nov. 10, 1947.

WILL THIS YEAR'S NOMINATION NIGHT BE LIKE OTHER YEARS?

Seen Around Town

About the men and women you meet around town almost everyday.

VE3ACN is the call of one of Newmarket's most ardent "ham" operators, Harry Richardson, Dav- is Dr. E. Mr. Richardson became interested in the radio before the war and he began trying to gather enough knowledge on the subject in his spare time to become an operator. When war clouds loomed he took a course in radio operating at the Canadian Electronic Institute in Toronto.

Mr. Richardson passed the government examination and obtained his license in the spring of 1940, and two days later he joined the U.S. merchant ship, S. S. Eureka, as radio officer at Tampa, Florida. The ship spent the summer transporting boxite from the South American jungles to Trinidad, where it was transferred to another ship to be transported to its destination. The fine, red dust was used in the aluminum wings of airplanes and was mined near the source of the Mongo River. Thus the ship's crew, including Mr. Richardson, spent a large portion of its time in the jungles of Dutch and British Guiana and Venezuela.

HARRY RICHARDSON

After some months the ship got a cargo of 400 barrels of Jamaica rum for New York and when she arrived the crew found she had been chartered by a neutral country for voyages through the Mediterranean. A neutral crew had to man her, so the entire crew from the South American voyages was discharged.

Mr. Richardson returned home for a holiday, but he was only here for a short time when he received a telegram from the department of transport ordering him to report to the monitoring service at Ottawa.

There his duties consisted of searching the air waves for the signals of enemy U-boats and taking direction finding bearings when one was heard. These bearings, along with other bearings taken at different locations throughout the world, would indicate the position of the enemy craft immediately. He held the position of supervisor there until the end of the war.

For the next two years he stayed with the monitoring service, measuring the frequencies of the different radio services for the government. At the end of March of this year he resigned from his post, came home and has been enjoying himself with his "ham" outfit. The VE in his call indicates to all other operators that he has a radio in Canada. The 3 indicates the province in which the radio is located and the ACN are the call letters which have been assigned to him. They are different for each "ham". Each operator must keep a log book of all calls which he makes or answers and the book is subject to government inspection at any time.

Mr. Richardson has talked to "hams" in 40 different countries since leaving the monitoring service.

Last Monday, when he was interviewed by The Era and Express, he contacted a chap in Baffinland with whom he had worked for four years in the monitoring service; an Englishman in Sutton, Sussex; a Frenchman in Montpellier, France; a fellow operator in Copenhagen, Denmark; and another in Johannesburg, South Africa. His Baffinland friend, now VE3BNW, is still with the department in the meteorological service.

Mr. Richardson was born in Stockton on Tees, Durham, Eng., the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, who moved to Newmarket 25 years ago. Mr. Richardson had finished higher grade school in England and when he came to Newmarket he studied drafting for three years and went to work almost immediately for the Davis Leather Co., for whom he worked until the outbreak of the war.

He is a "ham" photographer as well as radio operator. The picture is one he took himself. He is also an accomplished painter and retouching artist. Despite all these activities, however, his chief hobby is still hunting. He left for the north on Saturday. He likes playing golf, occasionally, too.

Letters

The Editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: Today is November 11, a day set aside for the commemoration of those who died in two great wars, 1914-1918 and 1939-1945, but to the majority of residents of the town it is just another day.

The writer was listening on the radio to the service from Ottawa and fully expecting at any time to hear the whistles blow denoting the two minutes of silence, which is the least that we can do, but after several minutes after the hour decided that Newmarket just didn't show any interest in those men and boys who gave their lives during the two wars.

If the local factories are not able or willing to blow their whistles at this sacred time once a year would it not be fitting for the town itself to have some arrangement made whereby a whistle could be blown — and maintain a two-minute silence — it isn't a great deal to ask. Apparently some school children observed this November 11 as a holiday, but have they been taught by their teachers the real meaning of it, or is it to them also just another day?

On Second Thought

By The Editor

An old friend by the name of Gus—never had another name—dropped into the office the other day. He lives up north in the bush and comes south every year when the hunting season opens. Says it's safer.

Gus says that he was delayed in getting away this year so he dug himself a hole in the ground and roofed it with sheet iron for protection. "A good thing," he says. "Just got nicely under cover when someone let go a charge of buckshot against the roof. Must have mistook my red flannels on the clothesline for a bear or something."

Gus says that on his way out he met a hunter who was upset because Gus wasn't a deer. "He heard a rustle in the bush as I went down the trail," says Gus, "and he draws a bead in my general direction. Then he sees my red hat, but he still ain't sure I'm human. He's just going to pull the trigger when he sees my mackinaw. 'Best make sure,' he says to himself and eases off on the trigger. Then he sees me smoking a cigar and he's sure I ain't a deer. Good thing I was smoking that cigar."

The Newmarket Taxi boys have been quietly adding their contribution to the fund that is being raised for the widow and family of the murdered Toronto taxi driver, Ralph Margeson. The boys kicked in some contributions of their own and then decided to leave the coffee pot in the office for a week. At last reports the fund was growing.

Joe Spillette and Howard Brice both closed their stores on Remembrance Day. Mr. Spillette closed the whole day. Mr. Brice from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. It was a gesture not made often enough and the two Newmarket merchants are to be congratulated on acting of their own initiative.

With the snow on the weekend, we have entered the season of bondage to mufflers, heavy overcoats and goggles. The air is filled with the "sniffles". Not even the memory of those golden days of October can compensate for a plugged nose and a sore throat.

KING X-RAY REPORT

Report of the T.B. chest x-ray survey made in King township during August has been released by Dr. J. L. Urquhart of Aurora, M.O.H. He said the total number available for the test was 3,940, and the number receiving the test 2,639. No active cases of T.B. were found.

Let's show a little patriotism, Newmarket. Fly our flags, etc., and let people both in the town and travelling through the town on such patriotic days know that some interest is being shown here.

"Canadian."

Editor's note: The factories sounded whistles inside and turned off the machinery during the two-minute silence.

From The Era and Express files, Friday, Nov. 21, 1922

Mr. Roy Cody has resigned as assistant town clerk and Miss Western is filling the position for the present.

Our hunters are getting back. Each of the following brought a deer with him, Dr. Scott, Capt. Aubrey Davis, Messrs. H. R. Y. Broughton, R. A. Starr, E. Brammer, T. Bolton, E. W. Howard and Geo. Robitaille.

Ex-mayor W. H. Ever got back from his hunting tour on Thursday of last week. He was successful in heading the list in his camp, having four deer.

Mr. Alex. Evan, a returned soldier, who was attending to his grocery business on Saturday morning as usual, was taken ill with appendicitis and was taken to the hospital in the afternoon for immediate operation.

They can get all sorts of men to go into the bush to hunt this fall but it's quite a job to find enough to take to the bush with the idea of cutting wood.

The many friends of Mr. S. M. Dunlop, one of our busy merchants, will be pleased to earn that he has sufficiently recovered from his serious illness to take a trip to Toronto yesterday.

The Newmarket Arena Co. is negotiating with California Frank to put on the same show that he is presenting this week at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. If negotiations go through this will be the biggest attraction that has ever come to Newmarket.

Last Friday the minister of education announced the award of scholarships in the County of York provided for in the will of the late J. I. Carter, Sarnia. They were Miss Ada B. Davidson, Newmarket, $100; Lloyd H. Stiver, Markham, $60, and John Ferguson, Newmarket, $40.

On the markets this week, butter sold at 45 cents a lb., eggs at 75 cents a dozen and chickens at 33 cents.

A new law went into effect on October 1 compelling bicycles to carry a lamp after sundown.

Mr. Russell G. Cole, who is attending Normal in Toronto, spent the weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Little, and his aunt, Mrs. (Rev.) Parry.

From The Era and Express files, Friday, Nov. 19, 1927

Alderman Perrin shipped another car of eggs to Liverpool on Wednesday. This makes six car loads he has shipped across the sea the past month, making a total of 864,000 eggs, which at ten cents a dozen means $7,200.

An alarm for fire was rung on Monday night but soon after the bells were out, a "fire out" whistle was sounded. Investigation showed that a bonfire had been going at the back of Maddock's store. Mr. Maddock's chore boy had put water on it at dusk but it started up again later and sparks therefrom set fire to sawdust and bottom boards of the ice house at the rear of Sutherland's store. Mr. Len Davison sent in the alarm.

On the Newmarket markets this week butter sold at 17 cents a lb., eggs at 17 cents a doz, and chickens at 45 cents a pair. A subscription is being taken up to purchase a weaver's loom for Mr. Isaac Lundy, a cripple, to enable him to support his wife and family.

Two tramps in the police station on Tuesday night. At the county council meeting on Tuesday, Dr. J. H. Wesley, Newmarket, received the appointment of physician for the Industrial Home. On Wednesday the most important item of business was the appointment of a permanent caretaker for the court house. Mr. W. D. Laurie, Newmarket, received the appointment.

The pond was frozen over yesterday morning, the second time this week. It is hoped that boys will not be venturesome and go on before the ice is safe. On Tuesday a fine flag pole, 45' high, was erected on the top of the Mammoth store under the supervision of Mr. Chas. Epworth.

Mr. James Moffat met with an accident on Wednesday afternoon that rendered him unconscious for a time. In attempting to fix the fire, he fell over, probably on account of his weak leg, and struck his head against a post.

The Endeavour of the Christian church provided the program last Sunday. Mr. Wm. Low, Jr., was in the chair and Miss Wood-ten acted as organist. Solos were given by Miss Mabel Prosser and Miss T. Greensides, recitation by Mr. Miss Wesley and reading by Mr. W. E. Lehman.

Opinions Of Other Editors

POOR TIMING ON CEILING REMOVAL

(The Financial Post) Aside from a misguided minority which would have the state take over all business, most people will agree with the dominion government's decision to remove ceiling prices on coarse grain. If we are to get back to a free economy then the state must vacate the field and let the natural laws of supply and demand take over. But the timing of this latest decontrol move seems to have been most unfortunate.

It came right in the middle of the marketing season. Those who sold their oats and barley under the ceiling got 30 cents a bushel less than those who sold after control was removed. That sort of action doesn't help orderly marketing. Undoubtedly, the meat strike was a factor in delaying the government action on coarse grains but if possible the move should have been made weeks before that tie-up. The best move would have been late spring or early in the summer, when coarse grains holding were at a minimum. In that case almost everyone would have had an equal start.

But this is not the first time, nor, unfortunately, is it likely to be the last, when the authorities have been guilty of poor timing. Controls, tariffs quotas and changes in various regulations have often been announced at the most embarrassing and expensive moments for business and producers.

The trouble probably traces to the fact that these decisions, which have such vital consequences on business, are not made by businessmen. Too often, apparently, they are made without even any consultation with business.

Several years ago, the Newmarket cemetery board donated a parcel of land for a "veterans' plot", a last resting place for veterans whose families or friends wished to have them buried near their comrades of World War I. During World War II, they increased the size of the plot and it now makes provision for more than 100 graves. The Newmarket Veterans' Association are erecting the memorial pictured here as a symbol of "reverence and remembrance" to those who paid the supreme sacrifice. POT POURRI OF NEWMARKET DOINGS

By GOLDEN GLOW

I seem to have so many things that I'd like to write about that I have decided it will have to be a pot-pourri this week. First I want to add a further Thank You to more kind friends who sent me the words to the old King Arthur nursery rhyme - one from Bradford, one from Aurora, one from Toronto, and several from town. Many others have spoken to me about it and are delighted with the old jingle, never having heard it. I never dreamed what a lot of fun it was going to make.

I have another Thank You to say to a kind friend who brought me a lovely bunch of Canadian holly all covered with bright red berries from Muskoka, merely saying "I know you are interested in things of this sort." Am I ever? And it certainly gave me a great deal of pleasure. It is the little remembrances like this that gladden our hearts, much more so than a big overpowering gift. Is it not so?

October and November, so far, have been crammed full of interesting events and it means Thank You again to several others. Where shall I start? I think perhaps the most interesting will be the evening Mr. Jack Bowser held Open House to the town council and wives, his helpers, and the town officials and others. I wrote an article some months ago on how the former camp huts were having their faces lifted by Mr. Jack Bowser, and that day I said hopefully "Maybe some day I may get an invitation to see the inside of a finished one. Well, and so I did. What a wonderful surprise! I had heard how splendidly they had lent themselves to conversion, but I must be fair and admit I had never dreamed they could be so delightfully complete in every last detail. Mr. Bowser is a genius—there's no two ways about it. The dear little bungalow we saw was all ready for the occupants to move into. To say we were thrilled and delighted with the bungalow is putting it mildly. In fact, we all decided we'd like to move in. It was evening and the lights of the little house shone out hospitably as we stepped from the car, and were met at the door by mine host. He conducted us through and no doubt was highly amused at our extravagant adjectives as we sought words to express our feelings. As you go in the front door—and what a view from the front door it must be—there is a little cloak room. Then you turn to the left into the living-room. The ceilings are high and the windows too. They are placed strategically so as to allow wall space for the furniture. Mr. Bowser has thought of everything! You go from the living-room into a small corridor which leads, on the right, to the bedrooms, or straight ahead to the bathroom, and a jolly fine bathroom too, with a little medicine cabinet let into the wall over the wash-basin, the door being a plate glass mirror for the man of the home to use when shaving. Farther along is the kitchen, complete in every detail with a splendid sink with hot and cold taps and built-in cupboards. At the left hand end, as you enter, there is a breakfast nook. The basement is cemented and extends under the whole house. There is a furnace and stationary tubs. After seeing the house, we were taken to a hut, not yet transformed, for refreshments and a merry get-together. The sight of a long table set out with everything one could desire called forth still more adjectives of appreciation. In the centre was a huge bowl of Emperor grapes, and the whole length of the table was gay with dainty dishes of condiments, flanked by sandwich trays of every kind of sandwich. When platters of Spanish onion were passed at the same time we all laughed and indulged in what seems to be a favorite condiment, the humble onion. It was indeed a fervent Thank You to our host as we left for home. He had given us an especially pleasant evening.

For those folks who belittle Newmarket and run off to Toronto for entertainment every chance they get, I think I'll just write down a few more pleasant evenings our old town has offered in the past few weeks. I need not go into detail for they have been written up in the Era other weeks. For instance, there was the Halloween frolic at the arena. That was a particularly jolly evening and the costumes were wonderful. I can still see, in memory, the penguin. It was one of the cleverest masquerade costumes I ever saw. I expect the little chap inside was glad to change it for his pyjamas and climb into bed when he got home for he could not walk, only shuffle. He carried it off wonderfully well. The skeleton was another clever idea. Oh yes! Mr. Peanut, the tiny drum-major, the angels—oh every one—and the girls who did the Virginia Reel and Sid Roger de Coverley—the boys who did stunts—and the clowns.

Halloween followed the Dramatic Society's first play, Forced Landing, two nights of fun the week before. Then the Strand had several attractive films, Captains Courageous, The Yearling, Keeper of the Bees, and The Egg and I. Miss Anna Lewis gave a talk in Trinity United church on her trip overseas with the Women's Institute delegates, with pictures taken by herself. That was an outstanding evening of enjoyment, all too short. Her colored films were certainly most beautiful as well as most interesting.

Then I heard a talk by Major John Barnett, vice-president of the Ontario Historical Society. He is to speak at the next meeting of the Women's Institute, by the way. Then there was the band concert in the town hall Sunday evening when Rev. E. R. Boudreau of the Presbyterian church acted as chairman. It was a particularly enjoyable concert with a most attractive program, which included songs by Mr. Terry Doane of Queensville, with Miss Mae Patterson, organist at the Presbyterian church as his accompanist.

I could go on and write about several other things going on in our town but I am afraid I have already taken more space than I should have. The 125 years of the Christian church—the Armistice parade—I have not by any means exhausted my subjects—to build??

to buy??
to rent??

No matter what you decide to do about your personal housing problem, you'll run into the Long-Faces who sadly shake their heads and say: "You're making a big mistake". But you'll go ahead and do the best you can, of course. The fact that "things are tough" has never yet completely stopped a young man in his attempt to get some attractive timber over the heads of his family.

Just one thing we have to suggest. Before you get too deep into blueprints or titles or scanning the want ads, we suggest you give some thought to blueprinting your future. The North American Life representative can help by showing you simple, inexpensive plans (some begin as low as $5 a month) which will be building up your independence even while you are busy with your hunt-the-house project.

You see, today's decisions are more easily and wisely made if you've done some long range planning for your future. How about calling your North American Life representative in for a chat? He comes to you with the sincere desire to help you;
backed by a Mutual company with a 66-year record for helping along the dreams of young homemakers.

Former A.H.S. Scholar Wins New Honors

Aurora—Further laurels have been added to the scholastic record of Willison Crichton of the University of Toronto, former Aurora high school student. Willison has just been awarded the Second Carter scholarship for York county with a value of $75. Previously he had won the first King Scholarship, the Reuben Wells Leonard scholarship, the Dominion-Provincial scholarship, and the John Stuart scholarship. Brilliant as is young Crichton's academic record, he still did not surpass the record of his sister, Mary, now on the Faculty of McMaster University, who won awards in 1943. Both are the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crichton, Kettleby.

LIBRARY CORNER

By CAROLINE E. ION

"I have loved England," by Alice Duer Miller, although classified as a travel book, is primarily a book of photographs. Published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York, 1941, it is available at the Newmarket Public Library.

In this book Mrs. Miller has chosen photographs of unusual beauty and each picture is accompanied by a descriptive paragraph. Sometimes it is a pertinent quotation from Phelps Diary, sometimes an amusing anecdote, sometimes an obscure historical detail, but always these selections lend added interest and throw new light on the amazing photographs.

Many of the "man made monuments" photographed in this book have been destroyed, but the English countryside and London with her bobbys and omnibuses still remain and are faithfully preserved in the book. The New York Times Book reviewer wrote of this book "These are the pictures that are forever England in our hearts."

"I have loved England," the phrase which begins "The White Cliffs of Dover" seems a most fitting title of this later work of Mrs. Miller's. Through her great love and understanding of England the authoress has captured the infinite qualities of power, strength and beauty which that isle assumes in the minds of all freedom-loving people.

To all who remember England as "home" this book will reawaken deep memories. To those who have not visited those shores, it will be an added stimulus to do so at the first opportunity.

This is an excellent collection of photographs and a highly recommended and most interesting book.

Young Hopefuls

By Dorothy M. Bowman

Keeping Peace Sunday Morning Ian and Nina, eight years old and ten years old, respectively, are great family nuisances on Sunday mornings because of their early and noisy rising habits. There are many, many tried and proven solutions to this early Sunday morning menace. Just which one will work in the instance of Ian and Nina remains to be seen.

To allow children to arise at 6.30 a.m. six days a week but expect them to sleep till 8 a.m. on the seventh day is simply wishful thinking. However, the rising angle can be modified and diminished if not entirely eliminated.

In a well regulated home, Sunday morning rising at 8 o'clock is possible and certainly a deserved treat for both the breadwinner and the homemaker. An hour leaves ample time for breakfast and getting the children to Sunday-school on time—especially if the breakfast menu is planned, the table set and clothes laid out the previous night. A schedule and time limit for the bathroom will help prevent the customary scramble there.

Some children are granted the privilege of a later bedtime hour on Friday and Saturday nights. The Saturday night privilege could be retracted until the children are willing to co-operate with at least reasonable quietness on Sunday mornings. Pillow fights, racing around the house, banging doors and loud talking are tabooed.

A system of fines for talking above a whisper, forgetting to walk on tip-toe, throwing things, dropping things, banging doors or in any way disturbing the peace to the household before a designated hour is often effective.

For younger children, the business of taking them to the bathroom in the middle of the night usually postpones the morning waking hour. Children, the ages of Ian and Nina, are old enough to get their own breakfasts on Sunday. This could be considered a grown-up privilege.

There are many quiet things to do to keep the early riser busy and happy. Reading the funnies, drawing, coloring, modelling with clay are among the favorite quiet time-spenders.

Sunday morning peace and quiet is possible and should be enjoyed by everyone, whether in bed or out, by children as well as parents.

Homemakers' Exchange

Here we are again and this week we have some of those little cookies that are just the thing to keep on hand during the Christmas holidays. With so much rich food on the menus at that season, a plate of cookies is always welcome—especially for the children. They are also nice to include in those Christmas boxes you plan to send to friends and members of the family who are away from home at Christmas time.

The following recipes have been contributed by members of the Home and School Association.

DROP CAKES

Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter or shortening 1 cup brown sugar 2 eggs 1 cup chopped raisins 1 cup chopped dates and walnuts 1 1/2 cups flour 1/2 tsp. soda in 1/4 cup water (warm)

Cinnamon and salt Method: Cream butter and sugar; stir in beaten eggs; mix the spice, raisins, dates and walnuts with flour. Dissolve soda and add. Drop from teaspoon. Bake in oven 400 degrees.

ICE BOX COOKIES

(Large Quantities) Cream 1 lb. of butter with 1 cup each of granulated and brown sugar. Add 3 well-beaten eggs, 1 scant tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 6 cups flour, 1 lb. blanched and coarsely chopped almonds.

Have butter soft so as to cream easier. After all ingredients have been thoroughly mixed, add nuts last; make into flour rolls cookie size. Leave overnight in a cold place. Slice into thin wafers. Bake in moderate oven until pale brown.

SCOTCH FANS

Ingredients: 1 cup butter 3/4 cup brown sugar 2 1/4 cups flour 1 egg yoke 1 tsp. salt Method: Cream shortening, sugar together; add flour and salt and knead to hold together. Roll out on slightly floured board to 1/4" thickness. Cut with large, round, fluted cookie cutter then cut each circle into 4 to make fan-shaped pieces. Brush with egg yoke diluted with 1 tablespoon water.

Bake in slow oven (275 to 300 degrees). Time: 15 to 20 minutes.

Help to make this a real exchange of the homemakers in our district by jotting down that recipe for your prize casserole meal or any other favorite and mailing it to: The Homemaker, c/o The Newmarket Era and Express, Newmarket.

Next week we shall include our choice recipes for holiday candies.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

A WEDDING AND A CHASE

There are weddings and weddings! Some we read about, some we see; all have for us a certain amount of pleasure in the lovely settings and beauty of bride and bridesmaids. And there are weddings that pull at your heart strings, weddings where you are no idle spectator but an active participant, weddings where no family tie binds you to bride or groom, but there is the tie of a tried and true friendship, a tie so strong that you feel you have a share in the giving of the bride.

Archie and I were present at such a wedding on Saturday, Nov. 8 when Dora Mae McClure became the bride of Robert W. Jewitt. We have known Dora all her short life and have grown to love and appreciate her more and more as she came to us in sickness and sorrow and in joy. We, as well as her mother and brothers, felt we had a share in giving her to the young man whose name she now bears. I think all Dora's friends felt this on her wedding day and what a tribute it was!

Before the ceremony which took place in her home and at which there were about 60 guests, Mrs. George Wood, at the piano, played softly the introduction to O Promise Me which was sung by my husband. Then after the playing of O Perfect Love, the bride entered the room to the strains of the wedding march, on the arm of her brother, Orley, who also gave her away. She looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white slipper satin, finger-tip veil with halo headpiece of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of yellow 'mums. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. Rev. Norman Rowan officiated.

The bridesmaid was Joyce Van Luven, cousin of the bride, who wore white silk swiss over rose satin with rose veil and carried 'mums. The groomsmen were Bernard de Vries, Kettleby. During the signing of the register, your scribe sang Because. At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's mother wore navy crepe with a corsage of bronze 'mums. The groom's mother wore dark green crepe with bronze 'mums. At the supper, Rev. N. Rowan acted as toastmaster. Rev. R. R. McMuth proposed the toast to the bride with some good stories added and the groom responded with a few appropriate remarks. Mr. de Vries proposed the toast to the bridesmaid. Then Orley McClure was called on for a short speech and my other half, too, was asked, as a neighbor and friend of long standing to say a few words.

For going away the bride wore a brown crepe and lace gown, a green coat and brown accessories. They left in a shower of confetti and to the accompaniment of the most effective noisemakers it has ever been my lot to listen to. Returning from their wedding trip they will reside on the Jewitt farm at Kettleby and in the founding of a new home, the good wishes of the whole community go out to them for health, happiness and prosperity.

As We Try To Go

"Set the alarm," warned the other half of the family the night before Jean Williams and

I proposed to go to the Institute Area Convention.

So the alarm was duly set and what is more, responded to at the appointed hour. All went merry as a marriage bell—husband provided for, breakfast over, cats fed and then in a downpour, such as we have only had once before this year, Jean arrived, conveyed thither by her husband. Jean and I and Archie, from different points, all watched for the bus which, for once, was late. It was too wet and cold to stay outside so we ran back and forth. At length the man of the house said "I'll take the car out to the road and you can sit there and wait." With that, he went to get the car. Jean and I were on the porch when—oh to think of it—the bus flashed past. I dashed out with a yell but what chance I had my voice above the assorted rattles of a car.

"Never mind," said Archie soothingly. "We'll catch them." I looked at my well-meaning spouse, whose attire consisted of pyjamas, a red and grey dressing gown and slippers. But I held my peace and shaken with laughter, we careened after the speeding bus. Near Gormley we drew alongside with wild tootings of the horn, brought the startled driver who, I have no doubt, thought he was being held up, and the still more astonished passengers to a halt.

Then the transfer was made and feeling we had had enough excitement for one day, we settled down to watch the wet, grey land with the vivid green patches of fall wheat and to see the long slanting lines of silver rain. The bus was warm and full of the gay chatter of young students bound for halls of learning. But among them were none so thankful as we, for we were where we wanted to be—on the way to the convention. Next week I'll write of what befell us there.

Institute Sent Thanks

Mrs. Jos. Hodgkins, secretary-treasurer of the Elmhurst Beach branch of the Women's Institute, has received a letter of thanks for a parcel sent to England by the Institute from Mrs. D. Hewitt, 23 Portugal Place, Cambridge, England.

The text of the letter follows: "I am writing on behalf of my husband and family to thank you for the lovely parcel which I have just received. It seemed just like Christmas to see such a lot of good things in the house. Before half the week is out, our rations are nearly finished. I am pleased to say that during the war I had Canadian and U.S.A. troops here and we did our best to make them feel at home and it seemed very lonely when they went away. I have still one son serving and I shall be glad when he is home again for good."

It is very good to know that one country is helping another and I am sure the English people appreciate all that is being done for them. Let us hope that it will not be long before we are able to have the things we used to get before the war. Thanking you once again. I remain, yours sincerely, Mrs. D. Hewitt.

JEWITT-McCLURE RITES NOVEMBER 28

Ferns and 'mums banked an arch of white and silver, lit by colored lights, when Dora Mae, daughter of Mrs. Gordon McClure, Pleasantville, became the bride of Robert William Jewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jewitt, Kettleby, on Saturday, Nov. 8. Rev. Norman Rowan officiated and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Colville were soloists. Mrs. G. P. Wood was at the piano.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Orley McClure, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with halo headpiece and orange blossoms and finger-tip veil. Her only ornament was a single strand pearl necklace, gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of yellow 'mums. Miss Joyce Van Luven, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid wore white silk swiss over rose satin with rose finger-tip veil and bouquet of yellow 'mums. Bernard de Vries was best man. At the reception, the bride's mother wore navy crepe with corsage of mauve and bronze 'mums. The groom's mother wore a gown of dark green crepe with bronze 'mums.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a brown crepe dress, a green coat and brown accessories. On their return from Niagara and Buffalo, the young couple will reside on a farm near Kettleby. Guests were present from Toronto, Nobleton, Aurora, Newmarket, Queensville, Pine Orchard and Kettleby.

LOYALTY

"Oh, I adore Nature," exclaimed a stout but soulful lady at a dinner party recently. Groucho Marx was among those present. Turning to his neighbor, he said softly, "That's real loyalty when you consider what Nature has done to her."

L. S. WRIGHTMAN

WED IN NORTH

The beautifully decorated church of the Immaculate Conception, Kapuskasing, was the scene of a pretty fall wedding October 30 when Verrel Jacqueline Charbonneau, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Charbonneau, Kapuskasing, became the bride of Leonard Sperry Wrightman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wrightman, Newmarket. Rev. Cary officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Isobel Masse played beautiful wedding music during the service while Hector Yelle sang Because, O Promise Me and Ava Maria at the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of white satin with long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. The tight-fitting torso-length bodice had a sweetheart neckline and the full skirt ended in a slight train. Her full-length veil was held with a coronet-shaped headpiece. The bride carried a bouquet of white and peach roses and wore a double strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor, Dolores Charbonneau, sister of the bride, wore a floor-length gown. The fitted bodice was of pink satin with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves, matched by a full pink net skirt. Shirley Carbonneau, youngest sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of blue taffeta with sweetheart neckline, fitted torso bodice, short sleeves and a long flowing skirt. Both attendants had head-dresses of pink Pinnocchio roses and poms. They wore long white gloves and each carried hoops of Pinnocchio roses and 'mums.

Attending the bridegroom was Philip Gerrard and the ushers were Claude Keon and Remi Brunelle.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the ladies' lounge of the Community club.

The bride's mother received the guests in a coral frock with matching black accessories and a corsage of peach roses. The bridegroom's mother, who also received, wore a black dress with blue embroidered flowers throughout, a black hat trimmed with blue, black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

Later the young couple left by motor on a honeymoon to North Bay, Newmarket and Buffalo, N.Y. For travelling the bride wore a grey pin-strip suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. A grey topcoat completed the ensemble. Upon their return they will reside in Kapuskasing.

MENDING MINDS

Illnesses of the mind can be cured in the great majority of cases just as definitely as illnesses of the body. National Health experts in mental health declare that early treatment is the essence of cure in these, as in physical ailments. Mental hospitals in Canada are now discharging 60 percent of their patients within one year of admission and some cases require treatment for only a few weeks.

ALL ABOARD THE HUNTERS' SPECIAL

Waiting for the "hunters' special" to pick them up for their annual trip north last week this group of sportsmen include members of the Zephyr club who have a camp near Parry Sound. They left Mount Albert at midnight Saturday, Nov. 8, and some of them will be spending two weeks with hopes of bringing back bucks.

When the train arrived at Mount Albert to carry district hunters into the north country, these trainmen and hunters pitched in to load on the supplies. It was a cold night and the wind was whipping a few flakes of snow in keeping with the hunting season. Photos by McMorrow.

KETTLEBY TO SHOW FILMS OF VISIT TO WEST

During the early part of October Mr. Raymond Marshall was asked to represent the hatcheries of Ontario at a nation-wide convention in the city of Saskatoon—a distinct honor. Before leaving on his trip, Mr. Marshall bought the latest type of camera intending to give a travelogue on his return. These views covered the entire trip through the three provinces, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. He also photographed the return trip which covered parts of the U.S.A. Some of these views were taken with the train moving 40 and 50 miles per hour, some from a plane at a height of from 2,500-5,000 feet. Nonetheless these views are marvellous in their clearness and beauty. Mr. Marshall has kindly consented to give his travelogue in the United church at Kettleby on Sunday evening, Nov. 23, at 8.30 p.m. This will follow the regular hour of worship which begins at 7.30 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

Nearly two years ago Miss Dorothy Eveleigh and her sister of Toronto spent an evening in the United church. They sang three solos and two duets, and no service in the past two and a half years has been so favorably commented upon as this was. Many will remember Miss Eveleigh as the special soloist under the auspices of the Evangelistic Centre of Toronto. The sisters have promised to make a return visit to Kettleby and will sing at the evening service on Sunday, Nov. 30, at 7.30 p.m.

Little Miss Linda Mathewson, Stouffville, is spending a week with her grandmother, Mrs. Albert Tucker, and Mr. Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Johnson and granddaughter, Marilyn Johnson, of Stouffville, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Little.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Iredale are spending a few weeks in Toronto.

POTTAGEVILLE Mrs. Alfred Hambleton Life-Long Resident

It is with regret we report the passing of Mrs. Alfred Hambleton. Born Agnes Jane Seymour, she was a life-long resident of Kettleby. Although in failing health for the past year, whenever her health permitted she was a regular attendant of Pottageville United church, where her late husband was Sunday-school superintendent for many years.

The funeral service was held at the P. M. Thompson Funeral Home, Aurora, where a profusion of flowers paid silent tribute to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Hambleton was held by her friends and neighbors. The pallbearers were Ray Marshall, James Rae, William Rae, Charles West, John Jarvis and William Hodgins. Interment was in Kettleby cemetery.

For Men as well as Women

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so generally used by women we are often asked, "Is Nerve Food for men as well as women?"

Yes, fully as many men as women have nervous disorders with loss of sleep, indigestion, headaches and chronic fatigue, and such ailments soon respond to the use of this well known mineral and Vitamin B1 tonic. Ask for the new economy size bottle of

Unveiled Memorial To Ambrose A. Archibald

On Sunday, Nov. 16, the service at Pottageville United church was well attended when a tablet dedicated to the late Ambrose A. Archibald was unveiled. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets and standards of autumn flowers. Rev. C. E. Cragg opened the service with a prayer, followed by the reading of the lesson. Mr. Archibald's favorite hymn, "Must Jesus Bear The Cross Alone," was sung by Mr. Harold Stone. The choir sang "Some Day I'll Understand," and a solo, "Alone With Thee," was sung by Mr. H. R. Wheelton of Toronto. The unveiling of the tablet was solemn and impressive. Mr. Cragg spoke of the loyal service Mr. Archibald had given the church, where he had been superintendent from 1937 until the time of his death in 1946. Through all his illness his faith never wavered. After the unveiling, a solo, "Zion's Hill," was sung by Mr. J. Black of Kettleby.

The address was given by Dr. Burt-Gerans, who spoke of the Archibald family, how their name originated, and the fact that the family, even as pioneers, were hard workers, but in the face of great difficulties remained staunch Christians. Dr. Burt-Gerans stressed that Mr. Archibald always spoke well of everyone. He loved his church, and was especially fond of the children, a class of whom he taught each Sunday. He initiated the plan which eventually was responsible for the erection of the Sunday-school building. He did not live to see this work completed, but his leadership and steadfast trust in God was an inspiration to the members of his church. We can say with conviction, "He has done his best." Dr. Burt-Gerans was a close friend of Mr. Archibald and appeared visibly affected during his address. The service closed by the singing of "Abide With Me," followed by the benediction.

The Woman's Association will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, Nov. 20, at the home of Mrs. Stanley Proctor.

Mr. Tom Blackburn is spending next week in Toronto and will attend the Royal Winter Fair.

Mr. Tom Maughan is progressing favorably after his operation last Saturday in a Toronto hospital.

Mr. Jack Hewitt, Raymond and Harold Funnell, and Visitors of Mrs. T. Cutting on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. H. Stone, Mrs. T. Hilliard, Miss T. Charlton and Miss Evelyn Spence, all of Toronto.

Sunday visitors of Mrs. A. Archibald were her daughter, Mrs. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. Black of Kettleby, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Archibald and family of Tottenham, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, Aurora, and Mr. George Archibald, Nobleton.

Hoffman Takes Barrie 6-1, Thoms Surprise Starter

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

They're off! The Hoffman hockeyists are on their way. Monday night they went up to Barrie to keep a date with the Barrie Intermediate A's. They kept the date and in fine fashion at that by wallowing Barrie by a 6-1 count. It was the first exhibition game of the season, in fact it was the first game for both teams and was a rugged, bruising affair for a starter.

Quite a number of the Hoffman cheering section took in the proceedings. They were pleased with what they saw and it's a safe bet they are hopeful this is but the first of many such triumphs to fall to their stalwarts.

Yes sir! The Hoffman Press-

Sickness has been thinning the ranks of the Monday night town ladies' bowling club. (By the way they are called something different every week so from now on they will be referred to as the Monday Girls for the sake of convenience.) Well anyway, at least four members have been kept away because of scarlet fever. Needless to say, they are sadly missed. Elsie Cline was high scorer this week with 248, 157, 195 for 600. Floss Campbell 185, 228, 137 for 550. Marion Stark 130, 228, 167 for 525. Elsie Haskett got a high single of 219. Dreamers lead with 13 points, Lucky Strikes 11, J.J.'s 11, Crack Pots 10, Rinkydinks 9 and the Champs are bringing up the rear with five points.

After five weeks of bowling, the standing of the first six teams in the town men's league is: Office Specialty 20; Hisey's 16; Bowser's 15; Metal Workers 14; Bender's 12, and the Clover Kickers 9. Here are the high scores of the week. L. Bond 228, 256, 260 for 744; M. Ruddock 220, 224, 238 for 722; G. Banning 197, 227, 258 for 681; R. Gibson 163, 244, 256 for 663; C. Yates 170, 220, 267 for 657; and C. Keats 174, 211, 243 for 628; L. McKnight took the high single 313.

The town ladies who bowl on Thursday night (to be known as the Thursday Girls) have allowed little information to leak out this week. However, their censor let us know that Anne Willis took high total of 565, and the high single of 281.

High single scores among the Davis Men's league, W. Groves was the big shot of the night with 218, 301 and 150 for 669. Second was R. Chant with 214, 183, 215 for 612. L. Wright took 274, 158, 173 for 605. The boys felt that S. Smith's team might have done much better had Jimmie Cullen come out to bowl for them.

(Sangamo and Specialty, make a record of your scores!)

CORRECTION
The name of Mrs. Mary Jane Prout's deceased father was John M. Beare, not John M. Brae, as was stated in last week's issue.

Gapco Sponsors Juniors, Broughton Will Coach

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

Twenty hockey lads reported to coach Merv Broughton at Barrie last weekend for the initial try-out of the Newmarket Junior C entry. They settled right down to work under the watchful eye of the newly appointed coach. The Gapco boys appear to have a basket full of hockey talent for future reference. Coach Broughton was well pleased with the material at hand with several more newcomers due for a trial at the next practice. Three of last year's standout Bradford players were out with the team, Bill Boychoff, Mike Brinkos and Mike Kuhla, as well as Bill Mulholland from Ballantrae way. Rumor has it that the O.H.A. will set up another series in the juniors, coming up with a junior D competition. Also on the cards are some changes on residence rules. How this will affect the local picture at the moment is hard to say.

So far as sponsorship and executive of the club are concerned, this was all taken care of at the recent organization meeting. Good news came immediately to the ears of the junior hockey enthusiasts with word from Bob McGuire that the new industry, Charlie Holmes, along with thousands of other sports fans, was disappointed last Saturday as Dave Sprague's Ottawa Trojans ousted Hamilton Wild Cats in the O.R.F.U. final. It marked the third year in a row that the Hamilton Cats have been sent into the discard after leading the league over the season. If we know Chart and the men associated with the Hamilton team, they will simply start all over again, looking towards the 1948 season right now. Fortunately, the team paid its way over the season so Mr. Holmes and the other backers didn't have to dig down into their own jeans to see blue ink. That's more than Aurora product John Stuart can say as his Indians are reputed to have cost him over $25,000. Another rebuilding process is underway in this direction and John hopes to recoup in 1948. Incidentally, yours truly and Mr. Stuart will not be Theatians at the Aurora high school commencement (Allah be praised!). The play we performed 20 years ago is a bit too long to enable the students to properly display their wares. After all, it's their show. John will be on hand, however, to present his annual scholarship award.

Red Mitchell, Richmond Hill, who has been playing with Kansas City Blues, has been loaned to Providence Reds for the balance of the season. District D Canadian Legion hockey league will hold forth on Friday evenings this winter at Aurora arena. Manager Bob Case of the Aurora igloo was in conference with John Mathieson, chairman of the Toronto district Legion league and emerged all smiles after the debate was over. Bob has a guarantee but the league with six teams embodying many O.H.A. players and former hockey greats should draw well at the turnstiles and the Aurora fans will see some blood and thunder double-headers at popular prices. At least four former Aurora juniors, Harry Pearce, Grant Cook, Frank Michanuk and Jack Curtis will be seen in action.

Keith Knowles is the new sports officer for Aurora Legion branch and the former Aurora hockeyist should do a good job. Bill Hadfield, who specialized in the P.T. and boxing end, hopes to start his school again in the spring. The youngsters who performed at the Legion field day received white gym shirts and crests last week at the Legion meeting. Scotty Mair is out of the Washington Lions line-up with illness and coincident with the loss of Mair and one or two other players, the Lions dropped down in the league standing. Mair, who was well up in the scoring race, has been passed by a good many and isn't in the select group now. Joint McComb is turning in sweet hockey for St. Louis Flyers and not getting too many penalties but the Flyers are at the bottom of the league and unless some additional playing strength is added the Flyers will remain there. Herbie Cain, who is lending a hand with the coaching at Hershey as well as playing, is smiling these days as the Bears mount the ladder after a poor start. Cain is headed for a coaching spot in the Boston chain when his playing days are over and this season may well mark that point in the Cain career. Gerry Olaski, who used to give district fans a thrill as he handed out body checks with abandon in the services league on the Toronto navy defence, is the badman of the O.H.A. senior series and leads the league in the penalty parade. Don Willson, former Newmarket Redman, is going a fine chore as manager and assistant coach of Toronto Marlboros who lead the senior circuit. Willson is understudying Joe Primeau, but since "Gentleman Joe" has two other teams including his beloved St. Mike's, the Bradford boy is on his own a good deal of the time.

Ben Harrison of the Aurora Royal theatre is the lessee of the new bowling alleys built by Archie Cousins and he will be open for business early in December. There are four alleys and the spot will be known as the Aurora Recreation Parlors. Good luck, Bennie! Jack Life, former Newmarket camp hockey star and track and field luminary, has been playing a bang up game of rugby for P. & H.E. in the Toronto Varsity inter-collegiate series. Jack is seeking a place on the Varsity hockey team. Ben Guldolin, now with Detroit, middle-aged it recently with a beauty from the Ice Follies. Take it easy, gals!

Legion News

The children's Christmas party which will be held on December 20 promises to be a gala event with an expected attendance of over 300. A great deal of time and effort is being put into the planning of this event and it is absolutely necessary that the remainder of the questionnaires be returned to Jack Higginson before Monday night. Approximately 150 have not been received.

To assist the purchasing committee to provide suitable gifts for your children, contact Jack Higginson this week and give him those necessary particulars. Tomorrow night is the November social evening for all Legionnaires and their ladies. Each member may invite one additional couple. The entertainment committee promises another evening of good fellowship.

Monday night, Nov. 24, the preliminaries for the coming cribbage tournament will be held. The business section of the general meeting will be brief. All interested in entering this tournament should contact Gordon Ough.

A questionnaire will be given to each veteran at the next meeting. Your sincere cooperation in connection with this is requested. Only a concerted drive backed by all the veterans in the town will produce the desired results.

Tonight the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held. Hunt Taylor, on behalf of the Legion, presented the colors to the auxiliary at the last meeting. A short dedication service was conducted by Rev. H. Cotton. Mrs. D. Brown received the colors on behalf of the auxiliary and then presented them to the flag bearer.

At the executive meeting on Monday night, the following statement was presented: "It is the opinion of the Canadian Legion Housing Committee that in order to obtain the type of action desired to provide low cost and low rental housing for veterans concerted effort on the part of all veterans is essential. The committee believes that a drive is necessary and they suggest that veterans attend the municipal council meetings with the view in mind of creating opportunities to keep this urgent matter of housing on the council's agenda."

"Recent events have proven that when any municipal council is really awakened to a definite local need it has the power and the weight to campaign for government action."

"In order to obtain the vital statistical information necessary in the practical development of the housing policy, each veteran must help."

SCOUT NEWS

The regular Scout meeting will begin tonight at 7 p.m. You are requested to attend in full uniform.

Although the boys have been very co-operative in paying registration fees and payments on their uniforms, there are some who have not done so. We would appreciate it if you do so as soon as possible.

The attendance the past few weeks has dropped somewhat. Get in there, fellows, and bring the boys out to our meeting.
